Fees and charges

FarmerCover has a choice of two remuneration models which will depend on individual requirements and needs for longer term financial advice.

Fee for Service 'Model 1' ("Tradies" model)

This remuneration model may be suitable for clients who only want 'once off' advice or on a needs basis only, and have the financial resources to pay for advice upfront.

'Call out' fee - $120

General discussion fee - $100

At this point, general advice may be provided. For personal advice, it is a legislative requirement that documented evidence in the form of a 'Statement of Advice' be provided. The cost of this is outlined below. Prior to you agreeing to proceed with the preparation of a Statement of Advice, the actual fee will be quoted to you.

Advice preparation

a. Simple strategy: $800

A simple strategy may involve for example establishing either a new superannuation plan, or a new single product insurance policy.

b. Mid-range strategy: $1,600

A mid-range strategy may involve the combination of one or more simple strategies, or where product comparisons are included as part of the basis for advice.

c. Complex strategy: $2,400

A complex strategy may include retirement planning advice, aged care, or any other high level advice that may be required.

All fees above may be paid by cheque or if available, collected from the investment product.

Ongoing service fees - $80 per hour (with part hours considered a full hour)

This will be charged for any ongoing requirements requested by the client that does not involve a change in strategy. This may include administrative assistance over the phone or by email, including for example assistance in any claims process. The 'call out' fee above will only be charged in addition if assistance cannot be handled by phone or email, and a 'face to face' discussion is required.

For any new or change in strategy which will require a new Statement of Advice, an Advice Preparation fee will be charged. For example, a change of investments within an existing product may only be charged the 'Simple strategy' fee.

This fee may be paid by cheque.

Fee for Service 'Model 2' ("Ongoing advice fee" model)

This remuneration model is suitable for clients who require an ongoing relationship with a financial adviser as their needs and circumstances change over time, with fees automatically deducted from the product. This model is also suitable for clients who do not have the immediate cashflow to pay for upfront services.

The following fees are waived if advice is proceeded with:

- 'Call out' fee
- Consultation fee
- Advice preparation

Implementation (investments only)

0.61%, with a minimum of up to $800, and capped at $2,400

This fee is collected from the investment product. The actual fee will be stated in the Statement of Advice and agreed with you prior to the placement of your investments.

Ongoing service fees (investments only)

0.61%, capped at $2400 per annum (no minimum)

This entitles the client to one annual review and ongoing contact for no additional charge. For reviews required more frequently, up to $500 per review may be charged (eg. for half-yearly and therefore one additional review, up to an additional $500 per annum - for quarterly reviews and therefore up to three additional reviews per annum, up to $1,500 per annum extra).

Commissions (life insurance products only)

Refer to the Financial Services and Credit Guide for a detailed explanation of commissions that may be paid by product issuer(s).

Should a client elect 'Model 2' at the time of consultation but not proceed with advice, the 'Model 1' fees outlined previously will be charged.

Gavin is a Director of New England Life Insurance Pty Ltd and receives a salary.

Note: All fees and charges quoted are inclusive of GST.
